Superior, cost-effective risk management

Why use the Annual Pool?

- Simple and effective risk management and marketing. With pooling, you'll never be left chasing an elusive market high or settling for the bottom. One simple pool contract covers sales planning, execution, foreign exchange and risk management.
- An expert sales team. G3 sales and marketing staff are the best in the business, with global customer networks developed over decades. Our international reputation is unsurpassed, which translates into competitive advantages that add to your bottom line.
- You keep all the profits. You receive all the profits earned from selling your grain during the marketing period.
- Less grade risk. G3 pool contracts offer you the most flexibility on grade changes and give you fair grade and protein spreads that reflect market values.
- Storage payments. Annual Pool contracts are eligible for storage payments starting February 1, 2017.

How do I deliver?

G3's asset network is growing.

Contact your local G3 grain elevator to work out a delivery schedule. Visit www.g3.ca/contact-us to find the G3 facility closest to you.

The delivery period begins August 1, 2016.

How do I get paid?

The initial payment is issued upon delivery. When market circumstances warrant, farmers may also receive top-up payments over the course of the crop year and a final payment once the pool return is known.

We also offer a Pool Cashout, which provides a fixed and final payment equal to 100 per cent of the projected final return on delivered grain (less a discount for cost and risk).
